APPEAL DISMISSED

PAUL G. SUMMERS,
Judge

OPINION

The appellant, Richard Dennis Reagan, appeals the trial court's revocation of his probation. His appeal, however, is moot since he has served the entire sentence from which he appeals. See McIntyre v. Traughber, 884 S.W.2d 134 (Tenn. Ct. App. 1994) (noting that appeal concerning legality of incarceration becomes moot upon unconditional release); see also State v. Wiley, No. 02C01-9408-CC-00175 (Tenn. Crim. App. April 12, 1995). This case does not fall within an exception to the rule of mootness to warrant a review.

The appeal is dismissed.
