OPINION

The appellant, Thomas Franklin Mynatt, appeals pro se from a judgment entered by the Knox County Criminal Court. The appellant's sole issue on appeal is that the trial court committed plain error by not indicating on the judgment the dates for which the appellant's pretrial jail credit would apply. He requests that this Court remand this case to the trial court for a hearing.

The appellant contends that although the trial court stated the dates for which the appellant received credit in its order of dismissal, the trial court did not reflect the dates on the judgment itself. However, the trial court did indicate on the judgment that the appellant receive seventy-eight days pretrial jail credit and that was sufficient.

This Court affirms the judgment of the trial court in accordance with Rule 20 of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Tennessee.
